

which have been so carefully preserved and found by D. Yarrington. There are 46 volumes and by the kindness of the owner, we were favored with the opportunity of securing them for our own city. They are now placed where any person, whether a member or not, can examine them. We feel sure that no such collection can be found in this part of Pennsylvania. Mr. Yarrington presented a family Bible, printed in Dublin in 1739, to the Association.

Our Library consists now of volumes as follows;

1995 of General Literature

69 Duplicates

47 D. Yarrington Historical Collection

325 Public Documents

2436 Total

The Century, St. Nicholas, Scribners, Harpers Petersons and Godey's Magazines are taken by the Library.

The Treasurers report shows the financial condition to be satisfactory.

We close with the wish that the power for good in the living thoughts, in books contained in our Library, may by a personal perusal, enthrall many of our young people to more noble ambitions to become more powerful for good to the world.
